What I should already know?

- That people have different ideas and believe different things and that these are of equal value in British law.
- That beliefs with deities are called religions.
- That people who believe the same thing often organise themselves into groups with spiritual leaders.
- That religious groups have rituals and practices, which are specific and sometimes unique to their religion.
- That religious groups often have special buildings in which they meet to worship.
- That religious groups often have special sacred books which they use in their worship and that these sacred writings often form the basis of their beliefs.
- That religious beliefs are regarded as the truth by believers.
- That the main religion in Britain is Christianity but that there are also many religious groups in our society.
- That Christians believe Jesus was conceived by the holy spirit as announced to Mary by the angel Gabriel.
- That after Jesus birth Three wise men came to visit him to fulfil ancient prophecies.

What will I know by the end of the unit?

What we mean by the words: “incarnate” and “incarnation”.

That Christians believe that Jesus is both God’s son and God himself born in the form of a man.

The evidence for why Christians believe that Jesus is God Incarnate (divine) can be found in stories in the Bible.

The concept of Jesus as God incarnate influences how Christians behave.
